

Arabic Vowels Overview

The Arabic vowels sign came to be used when the Non Arabs started learning Arabic language and when the Quran was read incorrectly

The short vowels are not indicated in Arabic books, journals, a person who knows Arabic grammar can read correctly any Arabic passage without the help of vowel signs forming part of the text, but a beginner very much needs them.

In Arabic the vowel is called haraka that means movement

And a consonant with a vowel is called mutaharrik that means moved

If a consonant is without a vowel sign , it is called sakin that means resting.

Arabic Vowels Overview

Short vowel	Long vowel	Doubled short vowel (tanween)	Sukoon (no vowel)	Doubled consonant with short vowel (shaddah)	Doubled consonant with Tanween (shaddah)
بَ	بَا	بَّا	بْ	بَّ	بَّا
بُ	بُو	بُّ		بُّ	بُّ
بِ	بِي	بِ		بِ	بِ